Nadworna - after WWII

Community: Nadvirna

Author: Vladimir Levin

There was no Jewish population in Nadworna after World War II. All synagogues were destroyed, but the Jewish cemetery is preserved to this day (Grandeur and Glory, 1:163-5). Photographs of the cemetery see in the Gallery section.

The Memorial book of the Nadworna Jewish community was prepared and edited by Israel Carmi and published in 1975 by the Landsmanshaft of Nadworna in Israel and America.
