Batya Zainden's Memories

Community: Siret

Author: Batya Zainden

" I would like to tell what I went throw in the war with the Germans. I was born in Siret which is in Bukovina, Romania to a religious family. We owned a local restaurant. In 1940 the Russians took over parts of Bukovina. We were sent to Transnistria with all the Jews from our town. I managed to escape and made it to a town called Mogilev. After the war I came to Israel on the Haapala after spending two more years in a refugee camp in Cyprus."
