Description:

(view from Shuchevich str.) kloyz Kosow hassidic synagogue (The "Kosov Shiel" modernist-style synagogue was built at the beginning of the 20th century, adjoining a complex of residential buildings belonging to the Rebbe of Kosov. Since its refurbishment during the Soviet era, the entire complex is used for residential purposes. Two of the prayer hall's walls are adorned with a flat frame with a strip of arches on top. This decoration also embellishes the gable at the top of the protrusion for the Holy Ark on the eastern wall. (M. Wunder, Grander and Glory. Remnants of Jewish Art in Galicia. Jerusalem, 2005)
